22nd-Autumn

September is National Cholesterol Education Month

Children, young adults and older Americans can have high cholesterol. Learn how to prevent high cholesterol and know what your cholesterol levels mean. September is National Cholesterol Education Month, a good time to get your blood cholesterol checked and take steps to lower it if it is high. National Cholesterol Education Month is also a good time to learn about lipid profiles and about food and lifestyle choices that help you reach personal cholesterol goals. Below you will find some information about cholesterol and a summary of CDC programs that address cholesterol across the country. You will also find a few fact sheets and publications about cholesterol, as well as links to useful consumer and health care provider information on our partner Web sites.

How many Americans have high cholesterol?

More than 102 million American Adults (20 years or older) have total cholesterol levels at or above 200 mg/dL, which is above healthy levels. More than 35 million of these people have levels of 240 mg/dL or higher, which puts them at high risk for heart disease.

What is cholesterol?

Cholesterol is a waxy, fat-like substance found in your body and many foods. Your body needs cholesterol to function normally and makes all that you need. Too much cholesterol can build up in your arteries. After a while, these deposits narrow your arteries, putting you at risk for heart disease and stroke.

How do you know if your cholesterol is high?

High cholesterol usually doesn't have any symptoms. As a result, many people do not know that their cholesterol levels are too high. However, a Doctor can do a simple blood test to check your cholesterol. High cholesterol can be controlled through lifestyle changes or if it is not enough, through medications. It's important to check your cholesterol levels. High cholesterol is a major risk factor for heart disease, the leading cause of death in the United States.

RENT

Rent is due on the 1st.

If you are using any of the rent boxes, your check must be in the box before 4 PM on September 5th. After 4 PM it is late—No exceptions!

*** Important***

- ◆ Do not post-date your checks. When a check is received by the Housing Authority, it must be deposited within 48 hours. We cannot deposit checks that are post-dated and cannot hold them until the following month.
- ◆ If you have a third party paying your rent (e.g. family member), they must put your name, building and apartment number on the check so it can be

How often should you have your cholesterol checked?

The National Cholesterol Education Program \(NCEP\) recommends that adults aged 20 years or older have their cholesterol checked every 5 years. Preventive guidelines for cholesterol screening among young adults differ, but experts agree on the need to screen young adults who have other risk factors for coronary heart disease: obesity, smoking, high blood pressure, diabetes, and family history. Less than half of young adults who have these risk factors don't get cholesterol screening even though up to a quarter of them have elevated cholesterol.

A simple blood test called a lipoprotein profile can measure your total cholesterol levels, including LDL (low-density lipoprotein, or "bad" cholesterol), HDL (high-density lipoprotein, or "good" cholesterol), and triglycerides.

Can children and adolescents have high cholesterol?

Yes. High cholesterol can develop in early childhood and adolescence, and your risk increases as your weight increases. In the United States, more than one-fifth (20%) of youth aged 12–19 years have at least one abnormal lipid level. It is important for children over 2 years of age to have their cholesterol checked, if they are overweight/obese, have a family history of high cholesterol, a family history of heart disease, diabetes, high blood pressure, or certain chronic conditions (chronic kidney disease, chronic inflammatory diseases, congenital heart disease, and childhood cancer survivorship).

The National Cholesterol Education Program has developed specific recommendations about cholesterol treatment for people at increased risk, such as those with a family history of high cholesterol or heart disease.

If you have high cholesterol, what can you do to lower it? Your doctor may prescribe medications to treat your high cholesterol. In addition, you can lower your cholesterol levels through lifestyle changes:

- ◆ Low-fat and high-fiber food (Eat more fresh fruits, fresh vegetables, and whole grains).
- ◆ For adults, getting at least 2 hours and 30 minutes of moderate or 1 hour and 15 minutes of vigorous physical activity a week.
- ◆ For those aged 6-17, getting 1 hour or more of physical activity each day.
- ◆ Maintain a healthy weight.
- ◆ Don't smoke or quit if you smoke.

Habits of People Who Always Have A Clean Home

I Make My Bed Every Day

Nothing makes your bedroom look tidy and clean than a made bed.

I Put My Shoes and Coats Away

This is one of my biggest pet peeves. I hate to see shoes thrown around a house. We take our shoes off at the door and put them away in the closet when we get home. I don't like the idea of all the dirt and germs being dragged through my house. It's also a great way to keep your front door inviting to guests who may pop over for a visit.

I Put Things Away After Use

I have a lot of people in and out of my home on a regular basis caring for my mom. If everyone decided to leave things out or to put them somewhere where it didn't belong, we'd collectively never be able to find anything. Putting things back where you've determined they live in your home ensures everyone knows where to find things and keep your house neat and tidy.

I Dust and Vacuum Regularly

Don't freak out when you hear my vacuuming schedule. I know it's not for everyone, but I have three cats so we vacuum daily. I dust once a week. If you dust and vacuum weekly, your house will remain cleaner and you'll save time because you won't have to do a major cleaning each time you do decide to clean. Things will stay presentable longer.

I'm Respectful Of Those I Live With

Ultimately, I want to be respectful to the other people who I reside with. Therefore, for me, keeping a house clean, neat and orderly is a way in which I can demonstrate my respect for their living environment. Luckily, we all enjoy a neat home. And even when it wasn't a priority for everyone who did live here, they came to understand it was a way to respect what was important to me.

Adopting these habits will keep your home clean, neat, and tidy and will reduce the stress associated with a messy house. You'll be

KATHY'S CORNER

I had this posted in my corner in last October's newsletter, but the scams continue and it bears repeating....Don't be fooled!!!!

On September 18, 2015 the Herald News ran an article where a reporter, Chris Harris recounted his phone conversation with a group of con artists running an elaborate scam.

He recounts how a woman on the other end of the line identified herself as an Internal Revenue officer and even included her badge number-829. Her very next statement was to threaten imprisonment. (I can only assume that this is a scare tactic to immediately put the receiver of the call in a state of confusion.)

Mr. Harris went on to describe how he was transferred back and forth between 3 or 4 different IRS agents. He was advised that miscalculations resulted in a $3,986.00 discrepancy following an audit of his 2008 to 2013 tax returns that must be cleared up immediately. (The interesting thing here is that Mr. Harris was returning a call to a phone number left on his voice mail and never mentioned his name, nor was he asked his name.)

After advising Mr. Harris that unless he settled up and transferred $4,000.00 cash immediately, local authorities would arrive at his doorstep, seize all of his property and he would face up to 5 years in prison, he was advised to remain on the line while he went to the bank to withdraw the $4,000.00 in cash. Mr. Harris stayed on the line, waited about 10 minutes and then told the agent he had arrived at the bank, although he never left his original location. He was told to withdraw the money, but not to mention that it was to settle a tax matter, or the bank would summon local authorities and he would be arrested. When he told them that he had the cash in his hands he was asked if he was currently near his home. He responded that he was in fact in Hoboken near his place of employment. The supposed agent on the other end told him that the Walmart in Secaucus was the nearest "government-approved store". He was instructed to go to the Money-Gram section in Walmart and ask for a "Person-to-Person" form, which will be used to send the money. He was told to address the forms simply to "Tampa, Fla." Supposedly his case would be handled by the "attorney at the courthouse".

The supposed IRS agent repeated all of the instructions to Mr. Harris 3 times before Mr. Harris revealed that he was in fact a reporter and asked the supposed agent how he could be in Washington, D.C. when the number he dialed was a Spokane area code. The rest of the conversation got more ridiculous and more ridiculous as it went on.

The point is: please be aware that IRS scams are being perpetrated more and more often throughout New Jersey. Do not fall victim to one of these scams. The IRS has issued numerous warnings about scams and have stated that they never initiate contact with taxpayers by phone or email, so if you receive such a call they advise that you:

- ◆ HANG UP and call the IRS at 1 (800) 829-1040 if you want to determine whether you owe

School is Back in Session - Watch for Pedestrians and Pedestrians Watch Out!

Safe Kids Middlesex County, RWJ and FedEx urge teens to take a "Moment of Silence" when crossing the street

Research released by Safe Kids Worldwide, with support from FedEx, reveals 50 percent of teens admit they cross streets while reading a mobile device, and an alarming 40 percent admit to actually being hit or nearly hit by a car, bike or motorcycle while walking. According to the research, distraction plays a role, as half of the teens surveyed said they cross the street while distracted by a mobile device. (<http://www.safekids.org/research-report/teens-move-october-2014>)

Every hour of every day, a teen is hit or killed while walking. That's why we're asking everyone to put down all phones, headphones and other games or devices until safely across the street.

Safe Kids Middlesex County has joined with Safe Kids Worldwide to promote the Moment of Silence campaign. This campaign was created in honor of Christina Morris-Ward, who was killed while crossing the street, wearing headphones and carrying a cell phone. Teens and their families are encouraged to join the Moment of Silence campaign: simply commit to putting devices down and paying attention when crossing the street. Show support by signing the pledge today. (<http://www.safekids.org/distracted-walking-pledge>)

Safe Kids Middlesex County, RWJ and FedEx recommend the following tips to keep everyone safe while walking.

4 Top Tips for Safe Walking

- ◆ Put down phones and headphones when crossing the street.
- ◆ Make eye contact with drivers before crossing.
- ◆ Be especially alert when it's dark out, and make sure you're visible to drivers.
- ◆ Cross at a traffic signal or crosswalk when possible.

Contact your local school to see about participating in Walk Your Child to School Day on October 5th. It's a great way to start off your morning, spending time with your kids and neighbors, cutting down on traffic, improving air quality - having fun and being safe!
